The vehicle parts specialist from Germany

The family business Herth+Buss was founded in 1925 and has over 90 years of successful company history behind it. Herth+Buss's extensive range of more than 26,000 branded parts from the Elparts and Jakoparts ranges is complemented by a special understanding of quality.

Sales and After Sales Services

As a brand supplier for perfect repair solutions in the international IAM, as well as a distributor of well-known contact system manufacturers, we know how to combine our services in such a way that we meet every customer requirement. One of the instruments for this is our high-performance logistics, which enables us to dispatch deliveries quickly, reliably and several times a day. Another advantage is our large warehouse and the high availability of goods. In addition to large packaging units, we also offer small units and samples for development, research and prototyping. Our services are rounded off by technical advice on site. You too can benefit from our services, which make us a strong partner for industry.

- competent and personal advice and field service support
- technical support in German and English
- individual product solutions

Official cooperation with Poppe GmbH

Poppe GmbH is the leading development partner and supplier of rubber distance holders for the automotive industry. Their Classic Fix and Clip Fix distance holders are used as abrasion protection, spacers or damping rings and cable connectors in almost every vehicle. They are suitable for plastic conduits or hoses as well as for those made of metal, braided steel or rubber.

As Poppe's official distributor, Herth+Buss offers you not only a high degree of readiness to deliver samples and series quantities, but also the best advice and support in the implementation of your projects.

A partnership for the distribution of the ClipFix® product range has been in effect between us and Poppe GmbH since August 2018. ClipFix® rings from Poppe are a perfect fit in the comprehensive range of our installation products. We also have many years of experience in distribution and boasts significant expertise in marketing, sales and logistics thanks to its global sales and distribution network.
